Around the NorPac

Appalachian State

- Senior Kate Ryno had nine saves in the opening weekend as she helped Appalachian State go 1-1, including a 1-0 shutout of Siena.

California

- Despite a dramatic overtime defensive save from junior Lisa Hauck, California dropped a 2-1 heartbreaker to Delaware in the first game of the season.

- Freshman Andrea Lo notched the Golden Bears first Player of the Week Award as she earned Rookie of the Week with a start and an impressive debut against the Blue Hens.

Davidson

- The Wildcats garnered a thrilling season-opening victory as junior Kelly Brennan scored just 52 seconds into the second overtime of a contest against Rider.

Longwood

- Longwood is in its first season as a member of the NorPac Conference. The Lancers will not be eligible for postseason play until 2007.

Pacific

- Junior Vianney Campos earned the first NorPac Offensive Player of the Week honor with two goals in the Tigers' 3-2 (ot) loss to Delaware.

- Starting just her second contest, Pacific sophomore Valerie Niles recorded a 2-0 shutout against Miami (OH). Niles had seven saves in the victory, lifting her to the first NorPac Defensive Player of the Week award.

Radford

- The Highlanders scored four goals in their season opener, marking the first time since 2000 that Radford has scored in its season opener and the first victory in a season opener since 2000.

- With a defensive save against UMBC, senior Angela Feindt became Radfords career leader with 11 defensive saves.

Stanford

- Rookie of the Week nominee, freshman Bailey Richardson and fellow freshman Caroline Hussey contributed to the Stanford offense in their season-opener against Miami (Ohio).
